NEWS + EVENTS

Early Bird Pricing Ends 3/31

Mixing and mingling. Delicious food. Complimentary drinks. A Wine & Spirits Pull. The latest on our economy and Minnesota's construction sector.

APRIL 13:
MBEX Annual Spring Social

All this and more awaits at MBEX's annual Spring Social! Join fellow construction business owners, executives, and industry professionals at our annual event on Thursday, April 13 at the Midland Hills Country Club from 3:00-7:00pm. Don't wait to register; registration goes up after Friday, March 31.

Special Guest Speaker: Ron Wirtz, Regional Outreach Director with the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, will share the latest on our economy, insights on the construction sector and how your business will be impacted.

Sponsorships: Support this annual event as a Platinum, Gold, Silver or Bronze sponsor. Companies can also sponsor the wine and spirits featured in our Wine & Spirits Pull (new at this year's event).

Wine & Spirits Pull: Purchase a wrapped bottle-shaped package, which will reveal either a bottle of wine or a bottle of spirits that is potentially of much greater value than the purchase price. All funds from the Pull support the MBEX Scholarship Fund.

50/50 Cash Raffle: Purchase any number of raffle tickets for the chance to take home half of the winnings. The other half goes directly to the MBEX Scholarship Fund as well (in the past, winners have gone home with as much as $500!).

Thank you to the following Spring Social sponsors:

Project Build Minnesota

More than ever, America needs men and women who will build, and the current labor shortage in the trades is only projected to grow.

Enter Project Build Minnesota. Since 2020, this organization has presented in hundreds of middle school and high school classrooms across Minnesota encouraging students to consider careers in construction. Their efforts are expanding in 2023 with industry volunteers presenting to some 50 classrooms and career fairs and reaching at least 700 students. This creates a unique opportunity in recruiting your company's future workforce. Contact Cody Neurnberg or Joy DesMarais-Lanz (Executive Director of PBM) with questions regarding this marketing opportunity or about Project Build MN. LEARN MORE

Scholarship Opens 4/3

Applications for our 2023-2024 MBEX Scholarship will become available and open to submissions on Monday, April 3. Submissions will be made fully online.

The MBEX Scholarship awards scholarships annually to students pursuing a construction-related field of study at an accredited post-secondary trade school, 2-year community or technical college, or 4-year university. With the help of our donating partner, The Builders Group (TBG) Education Foundation, the top individual award has the potential of being up to $5,000. LEARN MORE

Save this POWER-ful Date

The next POWER (Professionals Offering Women Engaging Resources) event is set for Wednesday, May 10 from 11:00am-1:00pm at Alliance Bank.

This POWER event, offered both in-person and virtually, will focus on how women can "Grow Their Wealth" and be more confident with their financial decisions. As women gain more financial responsibility personally and professionally, more knowledge is needed to make educated choices. From taking leave to start and raise a family, generally living longer than their male counterparts, and retirement planning, women face different financial decisions. This event will discuss steps women can take and em-POWER them to improve their financial situation. Registration will open on Monday, April 3.

MORE INDUSTRY EVENTS

Prevailing Wage & Construction Worker Classification

DLI's Labor Standards unit is providing a series of webinars to help workers and employers better understand the state's wage and hour laws.

APRIL 18: DLI
Labor Standards
Webinar

Their first event is on Tuesday, April 18 from 10:00-11:00am, and will cover three key areas: (1) Prevailing Wage - what it is, when it applies, posting and certified payroll requirements, (2) Construction Worker Classification - employee or independent contractor, what are the nine factors and when and who should register with DLI, and (3) Common construction industry labor standards mistakes and how to prevent them. Recruiting, Retaining Workers Amid Shrinking Labor Pool

The lack of appeal to young people, recessions and the pandemic have shrunk the available labor pool.

Recruiting & Retaining Workers

Everything from skilled tradespeople to CEOs are becoming harder to find. A long-term solution is challenging and will take time to achieve. But when it comes to people, businesses must play defense as well as offense. In other words, the first focus should be on keeping the people a company has before focusing on gaining new people. Too Big? Too Small? No,
These Office Buildings are Just Right for Housing

A wide range of architectural and economic factors make the vast majority of office buildings unsuitable as housing.

Office Buildings Just Right for Housing

While most are either too big, too new, too crowded, or too technically complicated to convert to homes, there's a 'Goldilocks zone' of office buildings that are just right for turning residential: Typically, they're mid-rise, modestly sized structures built before World War II, with at least two sides fronting open areas or streets in neighborhoods near, but not directly in, a city's dense financial center. Did You Know You Could Make Steel out of this Green Element?

Cold-based steel production accounts for ~8% of global greenhouse emissions.

Steel Made from Greener Methods

With so much of the modern world built on steel, the industry is looking to other solutions for a greener future. One promising process currently underway by HYBRIT technology converts old tools of steel production, such as CO₂-pumping blast furnaces, into cleaner electric arc furnaces. It also utilizes hydrogen --- which doesn't emit emissions when burned --- instead of coal, traditionally used in ore-based steelmaking processes. READ MORE
